MADISON— Yesterday, the Wisconsin Professional Police Association (WPPA) released their legislative scorecard naming the “Law Enforcement Honor Roll” and recognizing two “Legislators of the Year” after reviewing the voting records of the entire Legislature during the 2015-16 legislative session. See the WPPA release here.

Representative Gordon Hintz (D-Oshkosh) was named a Legislator of the Year, with the highest ranking in the Wisconsin State Assembly.

“I am honored to be named as WPPA’s Legislator of the Year. It is important for both sides of the aisle to come together on issues of public safety and promote higher quality of life in Wisconsin. I support legislation that supports our officers, makes Wisconsin families safer, and provides opportunity in our communities. In doing that, I am happy to have been recognized by WPPA who works on a wide range of law enforcement and labor-related issues.”

With over 10,000 members from almost 300 local association affiliates, the WPPA is Wisconsin’s largest law enforcement group. Find the WPPA’s 2016 Legislative Report Card here.
